

Modern English, Heart

Here's the news for the special day
He's lost his love the warm feeling has gone away
It leaves him colder than the night
No rhyme or reasoning will help tonight

And though he's staring at the wall again
He knows that it's not over

Heart in him, he'll feel it
Heart in him, he'll need it
To find the words to say when love comes 'round again

Something stirred in his heart today
Felt the need to hold her in his arms again
It seems to make no sense at all
Just when the ice was melting

And though he's staring at the wall again
He knows it's far from over

Love is all that, all that we deserve
Love is all that, all that we deserve

They necked and talked all night
Candlelight and accusations
Mistakes misunderstandings, stupid human failures
It doesn't matter when you're bored with love
