

Modern Talking, How You Mend A Broken Heart

Somewhere there's a chance for me
I said to my friends, my family
It's a long and lonely road to Southern Chelsea
And somewhere there's a love for me
I want to find my own reality
It's a long and lonely road to Southern Chelsea
Tell me there's a heaven, I know it's no dream
Sometimes I'm high and low girl and sometimes I'm between

Tell me how you mend a broken heart
I don't want to be a lonely liar
Tell me how I find a brand new start
I will ever be a heart survivor
I will make my dreams come true
I will try, oh just for me and you

It's all or nothing forever girl
I said goodbye to my old old world
It's a long and lonely road to Southern Chelsea
And somewhere thousand miles away
I'll find my life, but I have to say
It's a long and lonely road to Southern Chelsea
I will find my heaven, I'm halfway to my dream
And I see a tiny river, like in an old old movie scene

You can mend my broken heart
