

Modern Talking, Paradise

It was a cold November day
Raindrops on the window
I was asking you to stay
Hoping you wouldn't deny and then you gave me that smile
It only took me a while
To see my heart was burning just for you

And life with you is like paradise
Standing hand in hand
And that's just when I realize
These memories are the treasures of my past

Deep down in my heart
The strongest of emotions
Never wanting us apart
I'm feeling hot devotion
And every secret we share
Nothing we can't take care
Knowing our hearts share the strongest love of all

And life with you is like paradise
Standing hand in hand
And that's just when I realize
These memories are the treasures of my past

And then you gave me that smile
It only took me a while
To see my heart was burning just for you