

Mofro, Brighter Days

Don't stop even for the right thing does it matter what I say?
my whole world was by that river flowing off to meet the sea each day
I don't want to move away.

You look at me and you say "what's wrong boy?"
What else do you want me to say?
I don't want to leave tomorrow been and gone but I belong here now
Your big world can wait another day.

Brighter days where did they go?

I am hopeful for where I'm going but I belong in The South
That was where I was born a poor boy Living life like there's no end in sight even so I've done without

Brighter days where did they go?

Boy, you're about to hit the bottom
I feel alone, I feel I'm moving there
To a land you never saw and I see you're about to hit the bottom Lord help me move away to a land you never saw and I've seen.

Brighter days where did they go?
