

Mohamed Bash, I can't stop missing you

Even if the stars and the moon collide and the sun refused to shine i'll still dream of you and I , i can't let you go.

i'll cross the ocean and reach the land I give my life just to be your man i'd walk right thru the fire so i can let you know i can't stop missing you

You were and always will be the one who draw life into me stay beside me and don't believe me if i ever tell you, i could forget you..

In my heart the secret I've locked And you were the greatest story ever told I stay in love no matter and i will be waiting if time would seperate and i would love to recreate memories of you remain engrav' in me

I can't stop missing you
you were and always
stay beside me and don't believe me
if i ever tell you i could forget you.

Even if the stars and the moon collide
and the sun refused to shine
i'll still dream of you and I , i can't let you go.

i'll cross the ocean and reach the land
I give my life just to be your man
i'd walk right thru the fire so i can let you know..
