La dix croix

by now without whirling confusion like so toward the unraveling future (of the emerging world) the dream carved out by your heart toward the center of the light not forgotten the oath of those days broken, even love, in the end that is agony now toward the labyrinth of reality the final miracle

La dix croix the dreams within the landscape of mesmerism the desire within the sealed heart La dix croix yet the cries continue in dreams if the final door is to be opened

La dix croix dream of divine brilliance if the eyes are closed, within memories exchanged in those days, the final words now in the liberation of everything

the final miracle

if the final door is to be opened

La dix croix in dream the final miracle
