

Moist, Trickster

Im the trickster burn so brightly
I still hate you motherfkers everyone
Wrapped in glory bound so tightly
I still crave you even when I'm overcome
Saved by the light let me go on let me go bright
To be saved by the light let me go on let me go bright
Im the trickster burned so brightly
I still hate you motherfkers everyone
Wore my sickness so politely
I cant be your everything to everyone
Void in meaning swell just slightly
I still need you I still need you
Gone forever so concisely

I still need you I still need you
Saved by the light let me go on let me go bright
To be saved by the light let me go on let me go bright
And if you hate the world
Lets say I've been there
And if you hate yourself
Well don't go changing
All the times I used your body done my way cant say I'm sorry
Ripped the gloss off all your memories consequences so demanding
Bruised and beaten conscience bleeding sexually
Saved by the light let me go on let me go bright
To be saved by the light let me go on let me go bright
