

Mojofly, Wake Up

Walking lost, holding a cigarette nowhere to go
Thinking of you
Cause there's nothing else to do
My mind is all wasted Gets harder to start a new chorus

Shattering moments making hard to face the truth
Though your there waiting for something
Wanting to feel still the same thoughts
Lay inside your head making you break down and cry

Wake up reality bites
Can't move just slide down and crash

Cause I am breaking down

Struggling with the thought
Still lying down with the same burden oh
I want this to change
I want this to go away
Stood all by myself now with only a memory

Lying in a different bed feeling the past just haunted me
Oh
Flashes inside my mind
Over and over again
I feel insane
