

Monika Ferens, Look With Love

Shadows stir through the crack in the door
To touch my feet at night
Sunrise comes day after day only to me
To make me feel all right
But it all means nothing to me
Just because you meant to reject me
I'm a tear you dried long time ago
You forgot me long time ago
That's ironic at the same time
I still see it in my mind
All the time you've wanted someone
To look with love at you
I did
Chilling pain grows like rose in summer
But it's not so beautiful
You are the mountain I can't pass by
So I crush on you after all
But it all won't hurt so much more
Than the feeling you have let me go
I'm a ghost you're unable to see
I'm a unbelievable calamity
Don't love me now, do you?
And what did you say, boy?
All the time I've wanted someone
To look with love at me
Like you
Dont watch your back
Id carry the weight of your suffering
I took my own, so Id took yours too
Be strong
It terrified me I may get lost without you
And how far can I go without feeling your love?