

Monstrosity, The Final Cremation

(Lyrics: L. Harrison; music: Monstrosity)

A dark envision (duh, it's a verb, not a noun!) surrounds the mind grasping for the souls of dead the undead come trudging up engulfing evil in your head

A sacrilegious (misspelled as "sacreligious" in CD liner notes) action burns inside this chant of death now seeps through your eyes

A blackened charr ("char" is a verb, not a noun; "charr" is a kind of fish) enraptures blood

Awaking cries
of unconscious souls
petrified to arise
Sifting ashes
of the funeral of life
to compel the final cremation of the skies (misspelled as "skys" in CD liner notes)

The fire burns through every corpse

Resurrected shell of death revitalized core of dust altered for the last of days and propelled to liquidate

An unearthly sense dwells within my head drifting through the walls of time the oracle of insanity must destroy this wasted ball of mass

Awaking cries
of unconscious souls
petrified to arise
Sifting ashes
of the funeral of life
to compel the final
cremation of the skies (misspelled as "skys" in CD liner notes)