Montgomery Gentry, Some People Change

His old man was a rebel yeller Bad boy to the bone He'd say, "Can't trust that other feller" He'd judge 'em by the tone of their skin

He was raised to think like his Dad Narrow mind, full of hate On the road to nowhere fast Till the Grace of God got in the way

Then he saw the light and hit his knees And cried and said a prayer Rose up a brand new man Left the old one right there

Here's to the strong Thanks to the brave Don't give up hope Some people change

Against all odds Against the grain Love finds a way Some people change

She was born with her mother's habit You could say it's in her blood She hates that she's gotta have it As she fills her glass up

She'd love to kill that bottle But all she can think about Is a better life, a second chance And everyone she's letting down She throws that bottle down

Against all odds
Against the grain
Love finds a way
Some people change

Thank God for those who make it Let them be the light (Let them be the light)

(Some people change) Here's to the strong Thanks to the brave Don't give up hope Some people change

Against all odds Against the grain Love finds a way Some people change (Some people change)
