

Moonlyght, The Autumn's Freezing Harmony

Iced is my heart
Feeling the autumn's freezing despair
And forever they will never know
The grandeur and force of the stars
And forever they will never know
How strong their flames hurt me
Hurt me...

And once again, at another autumn night
I search my dim brilliance
To receive my final disgrace
And for another time, without the trees (fallen) majesty
I shall go forth reconquering
The autumn's freezing harmony

Empty was my emptiness
Then suddenly filled with thousand tears

And their flames burn brighter now
Trying to burn my autumn heart

And now it's freezing cold...
Now feel my thousand pains
My shadow will live as the autumn's freezing harmony
They shall never laugh again
They shall never hurt me again
Nevermore...

Those who try to break nature's harmony
Are those who will tremble before eternity

And once again, at another autumn night
I search my dim brilliance
To receive my final disgrace
And for another time, without the trees (fallen) majesty
I shall go forth reconquering
The autumn's freezing harmony
