Moonspell, Memorial

I am the moment, the soul The moment that ends it all I am the second, the will The serpent, the one you last recall

The living pulse of nightmares Is on my side
With the shadows I fade into you

A secret promise of leaving Blanking your eyes When you look for me try for once inside

In the sleep of cruelty The old sounds of you and me

I am the moment, the soul
The moment that ends it all
I am the second, the will
The serpent, the one you last recall (You are lost)

The ones so long forgotten Now at your side Their spirits travel from me into you

A rush of waters then afterlife The wind in the trees Yours is the fight in this minute dark

I am the moment, the soul The moment that ends it all I am the second, the will The serpent, the one you last...

In the sleep of cruelty
The old sounds of you and me

And for a moment it's gone The beauty of it all I am the second, the fall The logic of it all

I am the moment, the soul The moment that ends it all I am the second, the will The serpent, the one you last recall
