Morgan Wallen, Had It

Glass on the floor
Tears in your eyes
Sheets in a mess
Just a typical night
Slam that door
Drink that wine
Find peace on the porch from the war inside

Yeah, we talk and we talk in circles and end up in between
The hell we're in right now and where we used to be

You can't make it go how you planned it
You can't heal a heart with a bandage
And you sure as hell can't take back what you say
When you're drunk and you're speakin' your mind
Yeah, it's hurtin' me like it hurts you
But it's too late now like a curfew
'Cause I can't give you back all the time that I took
But I'll give you back the rest of your life
Did too much damage
Yeah, I knew what I had when I had it but, girl, I've had it

It's hard to say when to walk away but it's harder to stay when it's over
Tell me, baby, have I gone crazy?
'Cause I don't even feel like I know ya

Yeah, we talk and we talk in circles and end up in-between
The covers, now that's just trouble
'Cause that ain't where we're supposed to be, nah

You can't make it go how you planned it
You can't heal a heart with a bandage
And you sure as hell can't take back what you say
When you're drunk and you're speakin' your mind
Yeah, it's hurtin' me like it hurts you
But it's too late now like a curfew
'Cause I can't give you back all the time that I took
But I'll give you back the rest of your life
Did too much damage
Yeah, I knew what I had when I had it but, girl, I've had it

You can't make it go how you planned it
You can't heal a heart with a bandage
And you sure as hell can't take back what you say
When you're drunk and you're speakin' your mind
Yeah, it's hurtin' me like it hurts you
But it's too late now like a curfew
'Cause I can't give you back all the time that I took
But I'll give you back the rest of your life
Did too much damage
Yeah, I knew what I had when I had it but, girl, I've had it
Oh girl, I've had it
