

Motionless In White, Hollow Points

Put a bullet in my head, blow it out with your hollow points
Nothin' that you say is any help, it's just fuckin' noise
Get down upon your knees, thank the lord for your blessed life
Looking down your nose, feeling saved, a pretentious vice

Ego toxicity
Brand your faith a currency
But when it doesn't serve your purpose you just bite your tongue
You'll never see it for the evil that it has become You'll never see it for the evil

Manipulate, preach, and lie
Fire hollow points
They puncture between my eyes
Kill the fucking noise

Nail your hands against your heart
Say a prayer for the wicked souls
Armageddon's here
Crack a smile cuz we dug our holes

Fevered duplicity
Manifests complicity

Manipulate, preach, and lie
Fire hollow points
They puncture between my eyes
Kill the fucking noise
This pride's not a virtue
We all die the same
A fiction woven through time
That faith means divine

You'll never see it for the evil that it's now become
And when it strikes you just bite your tongue

Surrender the splendor
The true god screams offender
So biased, your highness
Superior, yet blind to bliss

Manipulate, preach, and lie
Fire hollow points
They puncture between my eyes
Kill the fucking noise
This pride's not a virtue
We all die the same
The fiction you live in
That your faith means divine

The ignorance fuels the irony in
The way you exist, a wolf in sheep's skin
Holier than thou yet soaked in your sin
Of misrepresenting all you claim to hold dear

You'll never see it for the evil that it's now become
And by the knife, when it strikes, I'll cut out your tongue
