Motley Crue, City Boy Blues

Fireflies and dogfights Runnin' hot in the heat Street noise, another bribe Things too hard to believeso head out

My heart's in the country My feet's in the city with you All my friends are eatin' sushi Talkin' bad about you know who who who My tongue's talkin' riddles But I just can't seem to find a clue So I take a swig of whiskey And jump into the saddle with you you you

And I just can't seem to break the shackles of the city boy blues I got the city boy blues And I just can't seem to break the shackles of the city boy blues

Cats in the alley Rats in my snakeskin boots All my neighbors think I'm crazy And my girl thinks I'm losin' my cool cool cool And I just can't seem to break the shackles of the city boy blues I got the city boy blues And I just can't seem to break the shackles of the city boy blues

Don't look to Jesus to change your seasons It's the American dream Souls of gypsies, road of stone Can't seem to find no peace so head out

And I just can't seem to break the shackles of the city boy blues I got the city boy blues And I just can't seem to break the shackles of the city boy blues

I got the blues, I got the blues, I got the blues, I got the blues I got the blues, I got the blues, I got the blues, I got the blues
