

Motley Crue, Just Another Psycho

They opened up the door to my insanity
They should've slammed it shut right then and thrown away the key
They stitched up my head from my labotomy
They should've never let me out, I'm public enemy

I'm not ok, I'm not ok
The voices in my head always say

I should be committed, but being so twisted
'Cause everyone knows I'm just another psycho
I went to the doctor, it wasn't a shocker
When he said I should know I'm just another psycho

Shoved into a hole, got covered up with dirt
That's no way to treat someone whose feelings don't get hurt
I don't need a reason to hurt you just for fun
I terrorize your perfect life, yeah, you better run

I'm not ok, I'm not ok
The voices in my head always say "(voices in my head)"

I should be committed, but being so twisted
'Cause everyone knows I'm just another psycho
I went to the doctor, it wasn't a shocker
When he said I should know I'm just another psycho

Ha, ha, ha, ha

I'm not ok, I'm not ok

I should be committed, but being so twisted
'Cause everyone knows I'm just another psycho
I went to the doctor, it wasn't a shocker
When he said I should know I'm just another psycho

I should be committed, but being so twisted
'Cause everyone knows I'm just another psycho
I went to the doctor, it wasn't a shocker
When he said I should know I'm just another psycho

I'm just another psycho
