

MoZella, Love Is Something

Sometimes I cant let go,
Sometimes I move to slow,
I sware It's not a show,
I don't know if I'm tired or crazy,
Or If my blood sugar is dangurously low.

Sometimes I talk to loud,
But you got to hear me out,
You never need to doubt,
I've never been so fragile,
Now that's all I'm all about.

(Say you wont) Stay away.
(Say you will) Trust me.

I didn't see it coming,
I've been so used to running,
Love is something that,
I've never known before.

Forgive me if I'm crying,
I'm tired of denying,
Love is something that,
I've never known before.

Never known before...

So hard to say the things that want to, but I will,
I feel so open wide that it's pathetic,
It's silly to believe something are meant to be,
But nothing will ever be if we don't let it.

(Say you will) See me back that way.
(Say you wont) Lose your faith.

I didn't see it coming,
I've been so used to running,
Love is something that,
I've never known before.

Forgive me if I'm crying,
I'm tired of denying,
Love is something that,
I've never known before.

I grew up on my own,
Spent so much time alone,
That it's taken me awhile,
To let somebody in,
Show them where I've been,
And so whoa.

You know I want you near me,
My dreams are vivid and I,
Cant see anything but you so clearly.

(Say you will) Always be there.
(Say you wont) Fade away.

I didn't see it coming,
I've been so used to running,
Love is something that,
I've never known before.

Forgive me if I'm crying,
I'm tired of denying,
Love is something that,
I've never known before.

Someday were gonna be married,
And I know were gonna be happy,
Love is something that,
I've never known before.

Forgive me if I'm crying,
I'm tired of denying,
Love is something that,
I've never known before.

Never known before...
