

Much The Same, Here All Along

Suddenly my defenses are down
Blindsided by my own curiosity
Now the enemy is attacking all around
My heart is pounding through my chest
And there's no way that I can get my rest tonight
God save me! Give me your truth so I can stand up once again
Keep me prepared so I can have a peace within
I look out on this battlefield, the one I call my life
I can see that you're my strongest ally in this fight
Yeah, I'm praying on the armor, Lord
And already I feel strong
Yeah, my fear has begun its drifting
Because you've been here all along
