

Mudvayne, Mercy, Severity

We've come here, from so far away,

I can save you,

If you leave it all behind

This suffering's, been far too long,

Would you take a trip with me

On the back of a star,

I feel like earth's gravity is just here to pull us down.

Mother of creation wait, embrace the souls of a lost world

Carry them away,

Darkness negative receptive,

Pour firmament between our waters

Separate the space

Mother of destruction wait with a belt of

Skulls strap me down

And send the ship away,

Progress with the process, mine the souls

From their casts

Pour form and reshape

This dark womb,

Wraps and covets me,

Redefining understanding, if you open

Up the heart,

Nurturing, this phenomenon,

We can carry you on our wings, our wings

Through the dark

Lightning flashes of insight,

Into the mirth of a dark sky,

Pain of division is nothing,

Joy of dissolution is everything

Mother of creation wait, embrace the souls of a lost world

Carry them away,

Darkness negative receptive,
Pour firmament between our waters
Separate the space
Mother of destruction wait with a belt of
Skulls strap me down
And send the ship away,
Progress with the process, mine the souls
From their casts
Pour form and reshape

Portal sits deep within the eye,
The eye of yin's severity,
Rewards understanding
Portal sits deep within the eye
The eye of yin's severity,
Rewards understanding

Blackness consumes body comforts core of Nothing...

Mother I can remember, a vault of security,
Can you take me away,
Would you take me away,
Won't you take me away
...Away
