

Mumm-Ra, Light Up This Room

you walk the streets alone again but keep your head up high i never said that this was fine but all you had was a picture in your mind and how many people live their lives as a background prop sometimes the spotlight drops on me but i'm not enough and im too proud not to see light up this room

cos it's dark in here and im told that you're coming round soon you're everything and more but you don't seem to care so im drinking myself to the floor everyone there will turn towards me im so obvious id love to tell you so you know but whats the point when the whole world tells you so so light up this room

cos it's dark in here and im told that you're coming round soon
you're everything and more
but you don't seem to care so im drinking myself to the floor

could you light up this room anymore