

MxPx, Easier Said Than Done

no one here is innocent as far as I can see.
It happens each and everyday condoned by you and me.
Is it right to take the very best only for yourself.
Thinking of no other one only of yourself.
I was lost then I was found
But my selfishness still brings me down was blind but now I see This selfishness in front of me
Now I'm thinking about doing the right thing everyday It's really hard to do but it's easy to say by myself I fall but in him I stand Everytime I doubt he shows me again
