

My Brightest Diamond, Bass Player

bass player all alone makes a sound most wouldnt call a symphony as he plays thinks of maid sad and shuffling she sings blow me a kiss before i drown in sorrow blow me a kiss before i drown he saw her by the moon dress in hand her hips were swayin melancholy tune broken buckles tired lips she was singing blow me a kiss before i drown in sorrow blow me a kiss before i drown in laundry she said i want to be with the stars tonight so i can fly above the laundry
