

My Chemical Romance, Stay Awake

So would you say?
Are the lights are really low enough to play?
So much easier than falling down and
All alone you prove that I was
Broken down to move and alright
Battling the loss you live for
Meant the world to you

And if you stay right here?
When I'm telling you
That someone out there loves you
Stay right here?
Well I'd tell you
That someone out there loves you after all

Sometimes it's always easier at fall
Then you pick yourself right back and better
All alone you prove that I was
Broken down to move and alright
Battling the loss you live for
Meant the world to you

And would you stay right here?
When I tell you
That someone out there loves you
Stay right here
When I'm telling you
That someone out there loves you

No one out, no one out there?
Is there no one who, no one who cares?
And is there no one out, no one out there?
Is there no one who, no one who cares?

And if you go
Just lets go home!

And if you stay right here
When I'm telling you
'Cause someone out there loves you
Stay right here
When I'm telling you
That someone out there loves you

No one out, no one out there?
Is there no one who, no one who cares?
And is there no one out, no one out there?
Is there no one who, no one who cares?
