

My Former Self, Your Mistake

Its midnight
My blanket's never felt so cold
Your memory's grown old
And I can feel your ghost deep within these walls

Where do you get off saying
Anything goes?
I have tried to heal my misery
I've lost my everything
I've lost my everything

With rusty nails for rhetoric
You're armed with a sense of denial
I'll tell you forever
That this is your error
Your mess up, your mistake, your fault and I will carry on

Where do you get off saying
Anything goes?
I have tried to heal my misery
But absence makes the heart grow fonder

I've lost my everything