

My Latest Novel, Sister Sneaker Sister Soul

I only know her first name
I only know her by her fame
It seems to hide in my brain
Run away with a broken moment
Hide away and wait for me in my dreams
Dreams of me and my girl
Carrie comes with a copied promise
Stay awake all night and she can be free
To tell me everything is true
Sunshine comes and steals my night time
Flowers wave and they try and liberate me
Hiding away from her dreams
Ba ba da ba ba ba ba (x4)

Stay awake and hide from Carrie
She comes along and she sings to me in my dreams
Haunting me in my view
Crash again into her morning
I'm all alone in the restlessness of her pain
Free from all of her style
Juxtaposed with the light of sunshine
I hide away from her political view
Flowers that liberate me
Go to sleep and await the night time
Hiding from the light that she brings with her
Policies of the worst

I only know her first name
I only know her by her fame
It seems to hide in my brain
Get up early to sit and sip wine
Flowers say that everything will be fine
Just like all the old times
