

Myers Billie, Much Change Too Soon

Much change too soon
Under the sign of the cross, time moves
Indulge me, will you protect me
Let's swim out to the past
And drown in moments that last
Will I be beautiful to you?
Will you save me? Will you protect me?
Come to the water's edge
Where you can draw your circles
Around me, around me
Much change too soon
Even the dawn chorus changed her tune
Indulge me, will you protect me
From the passing of time
Let all our years pour like wine
Will I be beautiful to you?
So then when we stand together,
Three decades on
Will you breathe your life into me?
Under the eyes of heaven, can we Make time stand still?
The evergreen's fading, as time turns her pages
Everything's changing but me, me
Is it always the same?
There's nothing left but remains
Still, will I be beautiful to you?
Indulge me, oh protect me
I know there's always a risk
Time has a deadly french kiss
So come to the water's edge
Where you can draw your circles
Around me, around me
Much change too soon
I often wonder why it's so
Watch over me
Stay, the years with me...
Oh come to my water's edge
Will you come to my water's edge?
Much change too soon
Water's edge, the water's edge
Come to the water
With me
Much change too soon
