

'N Sync, For The Girl Who Has Everything

You drive a pretty car
You know how fine you are and nobody needs to say it
They love the clothes you wear, they compliment you and I just love the way you play it

But the only thing you dream of money can't buy for you
And in all my dreams I'll make your wish come true

For the girl who has everything I bring you love, I bring you love
Cause the girl who has everything can't get enough, of my love

Why do you run and hide?
Say what you feel inside
Why must you always fake it?
Girl you need to understand your heart's safe within my hands and I promise I'll never break it

I know that you still dream of what money can't buy for you
And in my dreams I'll make your wish come true

For the girl who has everything I bring you love, I bring you love
Cause the girl who has everything can't get enough of my love

If you just let me try - my baby listen
I'll help you find what you've been missing
You gotta listen to your heart and not your mind

For the girl who has everything I bring you love
Cause the girl who ha everything can't get enough of my love
