

Nana Mouskouri, Longing

Longing to hold you in my arms again
Longing to know your breathless charm again
Longing to have you
These hands that reach out and die for your touch

Longing to feel your lips caress my cheeks
Longing to feel too full of love to speak
Praying for arms to stay in Until the day, after always with you

Now you're gone, there's no reason to be living
And go on, but it's wrong to be without you
Don't forsake me, come back my love and take me
My lonely heart will break without you by my side

me and the lovely dreams
Feel me, with the tenderness of you
Longing, I'll go on longing
Till I belong in your arms again
Once again, once again
