Napalm Death, Reflect On Conflict

Something to prove, something to say
Feeling secure, a false portrait
Forging alone the facts unknown
Hiding the to drag us on

Trapping the standpoint
Local disjoint
More to protect than to reject
Reflect the conflict inside

Punish the core, the more unsure
Testing the strenght of us once more
Peeling away the scar to bleed
Peeling again a growing seed

Accept the consequence
Unlike our differences

Shameless and painless -
Reflect on conflict