

Napalm Death, Sink Fast, Let Go

As always, the will & desire passed off as a fault of the unlearned

Sink fast, let go

To live this but not to subscribe (to god) means we can halt our own rapid decline

Sink fast, let go

No product of an almighty here cast in no creators' image trust in our own complexities to exit, not degenerate

What joy to linger
sink fast, let go
at behest of the appointed
sink fast, let go
dregs for the appointed

No product of an almighty here life's not precious at its fringes he didn't help through trials & tribulations so you can't bar the exit door

Scream out for shutdown
sink fast, let go
at behest of the appointed
cling for the appointed dregs for the appointed

Life pushes major choices & this is the most informed we do as we please

When all we finally possess is the shadow of our former self
we do as we please
