Nasum, The Smallest Man

You're such a whore!

Criticism can't get to you You just don't give a shit It's all for you nothing for them They'll never see the difference

With all hope gone there's just one thing to do Decisions A simple choice to rid ourselves from the likes of you Decisions With all hope gone there's one stand left to make Decisions A simple task, if you've got what it takes

Dead but dreaming your state of mind If you can call it that And would you believe your time is up Now there are decisions to be made

With all hope gone there's just one thing to do Decisions A simple choice to rid ourselves from the likes of you Decisions With all hope gone there's one stand left to make Decisions A simple task, if you've got what it takes

You're such a whore Your loyalty is a fucking joke Just pure cash flow Seems to me what this is all about You see, to me you're the smallest man to walk this earth A failure from birth