Natalia Lesz, Broken mirrors

I?m stuck in my head To tight to open Always black and white Not much left unspoken Secrets twisted minds Vivid and unkind

Broken mirrors
Shards of glass
Hearts get broken
Now it?s past
In those pieces can you see
Your reflection left in me?

I blocking it up Chosen a confessions Distant to your arms But did we stop to listen? Leave it all behind Washed it down with wine

Broken mirrors
Shards of glass
Hearts get broken
Now it?s past
In those pieces can you see
Your reflection left in me?

This is not how we used to promise This is not what we use to say So hold me closer when I want run A always have to run away

Broken mirrors
Shards of glass
Hearts get broken
Now it?s past
In those pieces can you see
Your reflection left in me?
