

Natalia Safran, All I Feel Is You

When faced with the darkest day
With an endless night when I lay awake
Only thought of you can pull me through
When shadowed by greyest cloud
Weighed down by darkest self doubt
Memory of your smile can pull me out

All I feel is you
All I feel is you
How can it be that
All I feel is you

And when I close my eyes
World drifts away
All is far behind
Where do my thoughts rush to
They race till they find you
In the deepest sleep
In the middle of my most secret dream
It's your face I see
Your eyes following me

All I feel is you
All I feel is you
How can it be that
All I feel is you

All I feel is you
All I feel is you
How can it be that
All I feel is you

All I feel is you
All I feel is you
Can't understand why
All I feel is you

All I feel is you
All I feel is you
All I feel is you
All I feel is you
