

Natalie Browne, Confused

I feel a challenge in my soul today
Questioning things I believed in so firmly yesterday
How can I have faith in myself and what I feel to be true
When the next day I feel my heart and mind telling me something new
I feel the twisting of my soul today
Something is challenging my perceptions
And what I&#039;m going through is hard
And I admit, right now I&#039;m not O.K. So...

Chorus:

Right now, I am confused
Right now, I don&#039;t exactly know what to choose
This day feels so unlike the rest
Right now, I am confused

I feel a burden in my spirit today
Feels like everything that I&#039;ve ever trusted in
Has been washed away
I feel like I&#039;m grappling for the truth
Don&#039;t understand decisions that I made while in my youth

In my mind I know I gotta live with what I&#039;ve chosen
But in my heart I struggle
&#039;Cuz I can&#039;t live with a heart that&#039;s frozen
Inside my heart and soul just want to fly

Bridge:

All my questions came to late
I don&#039;t get a chance to reevaluate?
Can not bear to live with choices I made
Gonna make a change
Feel a change in my soul today
Gonna let the past fade away
Won&#039;t be confused no more
