Natalie Durham, Let You Go

things were good and things were fine until you nearly blew my mind wont you sing to me one more time before you walk away... you said other things were more important pretty much i was a waste of your time please explain to me what i did wrong before you leave me here..

before you leave me here to cry before you leave me all alone after you have explained to me why before i let you go..

now youre gone on one hand im sad on the other im quite mad you took my car and you stole my heart i hope you run out of gas.... youre lookin' for the rest of your clothes did you check in the garbage can or maybe in the fire place to warm my heart so cold...
