

Natalie Grant, Something Beautiful

This is a song for anyone whose ever been knocked down ; can't get back again Stuck in the corner, can't move forward
All alone and you think you're going nowhere This is a song for anyone whose ever stood underneath the sun and felt so small-two feet tall and so out of place He sees you - he knows you - he loves you and he wants you to know that

CHORUS:

The life you've been livin, the days that you've been givin
Were made for something beautiful Life - Don't let it pass you by because you were created for somethin beautiful

Heaven holds a dream that's just for you there are things only you can do So step by faith, put the past away It'll take you to a better day

Seconds to minutes to hours to life time always seem to fly it's on the go and before you know your days are through but he sees you - he knows you - he loves you
and he wants you to know that

What are - you waiting for
What are you - waiting for
What - are you waiting for

There's something beautiful
