

Nazareth, Burning Down

If it takes them so long
So long to say yes
Why don't they just say no?
They don't need anyone to be put to the test
Why don't they let us go

Living for the right to be, living for the right
Living for the right to be, living for the right
Living for the right to be free

We needed a plan, we needed defenses
We couldn't raise a smile
As the world looked on, they raided our senses
There can be no reconcile

Burning down, burning down, burning down, burning down

There was a time before life was taken for granted
It'll never come again
Our flower is dead, the seed is unplanted
They put it all to flame

Burning down, burning down, burning down, burning down

Living for the right to be, living for the right
Living for the right to be, living for the right
Living for the right to be free
Living for the right to be, living for the right
Living for the right to be, living for the right
Living for the right to be free

Burning down, burning down, burning down, burning down

(Rankin.....Copyright Control)
Published by Nazareth (Dunfermline) Ltd
Copyright 1994 Polydor gbmh, Hamburg