

Ne-Yo, So You Can Cry

So it's over
He's with someone else and you know her
And you just can't get any lower
You sit in the dark alone
Won't answer your phone
Well I'm sorry
I won't attend your pity party
I rather go have calamari
And maybe a drink
And yes I think
You should come with me

Life is long
There will be pain but life goes on
With everyday a brand new song
But if you rather stay at home
Let me do you a favor

I'll ask the sun to shine away from you today so you can cry
(If that's what you want, alright)
I'll ask the clouds to bring the rain for you today so you can cry
(If that's what you want, alright)
ooooo If that's what you want, alright

I'm a Lover
And the pain of a heart from another
Can be difficult to recover
Yes this I know
But difficult isn't impossible
And you shiver (shiver)
He was your warmth
You Cry Lips Quiver
Well honey go on cry me a river
You wanna be down (you wanna be down)
Fine let me help you out
How bout

I'll ask the sun to shine away from you today so you can cry
(If that's what you want, alright)
I'll ask the clouds to bring the rain for you today so you can cry
(If that's what you want, alright)
ooooo If that's what you want, alright
Then that what you want alright

And your tears won't bring him back
I know you wish that it did
But it just don't work like that
Ooo I know that healings takes time
Hey, even your heart has a pace
Ooo but how much time are you gonna take
Hmm too much will be a mistake

I'll ask the sun to shine away from you today so you can cry
(If that's what you want, alright)
I'll ask the clouds to bring the rain for you today so you can cry
(If that's what you want, alright)
I'll ask the sun to shine away from you today so you can cry
If that's what you want
