

Neal Morse, Author Of Confusion

Author of confusion you play inside my mind and I want to run
But where can I hide?

Author of confusion your aim is to confound 'til I do not know
Which is up or down?

Author of confusion you play inside my mind and I want to run
But where can I hide?

Author of confusion you start an endless chase; thoughts start running 'round
Never find their place

Author of confusion your aim is to confound 'til I do not know
Which is up or down?

Low or high

The truth is I don't know

Author of confusion you play inside my mind and I want to run
But where can I hide?

Author of confusion you start an endless chase; thoughts start running 'round
But never find their place

Author of confusion your aim is to confound 'til I do not know
Which is up or down?

Day or night

Who knows right from wrong?

How long will stay tied to the mast?

How long 'til you reach for me at last?

Aren't you tired of living in the cold?

How long 'til you come to claim the gold?

You are like a raven in the night

You fly high but you're sleeping in the light

The waves will crash and the mighty winds will roar

Why can't we be the way we were before?

Author of confusion you play inside my mind

Author of confusion you live to make me blind

Author of confusion you play inside my mind and I want to run
But where can I hide?

Author of confusion you start an endless chase; thoughts start running 'round
Never find their place

Author of confusion your aim is to confound 'til I do not know
Which is up or down?

Low or high

The truth is I don't know
