

Neeka, Another Girl Tonight

My lover is kind, worships my mind harbours my life
I measure his sighs, his passionate cries
But he banished from my kind of love
Tell me nothing's wrong and i'll go
If your love's not strong i should know
I enter the lie, i know it's not right
You own me but i'll be another girl tonight
Please don't deny my daring disguise
You own me, let me be
Your sweetness it blinds, your dark heart defies
The hardest of trials
Who leads the dance, in this crooked romance?
In this shadow of a long lost fire
I fear the time you will go
If nothings's wrong let me know
I enter the lie, i know it's not right
You own me but i'll be another girl tonight
Please don't deny my daring disguise
You own me, let me be
When the passion has died, we hide in denial
Pleased with what is left
We're so hung up on safety
Oh we cherish that sweet denial
I enter the lie, i know it's not right
You own me but i'll be another girl tonight
Please don't deny my daring disguise
You own me, let me be
Oooh
You own me but i'll be another girl tonight
Oooh
You own me but i'll be another girl tonight
You own me but i'll be another girl tonight
You own me
