Neil Diamond, Practically Newborn

Runnin', hidin' Runnin', hidin' myself From a bad and sad kinda hurt It ain't gonna work, oh no

Alibi'n I've been tryin' to make believe I could leave love alone Heart made of stone

Take love, why not Give all the love that I got But I never could before You opened up, my door

Practically newborn, Least that's the way I feel Practically newborn, I got me somethin' real Anything you want, Baby, you know I'll do Yeah Practically newborn, Practically born for you

Me, I found me
Me, I found me a road
Take me out of my doubt and my fears
I said goodbye to tears
Stay around me, baby
Stay around me when I can't forget
What I let get me down
Look what I've found

Take love, why not Give all the love that I got I never could before you opened up my door

Practically newborn, Least that's the way I feel Practically newborn, I got me somethin' real Anything you want, Baby, you know I'll do Yeah Practically newborn, Practically born for you.

Practically newborn, least that's the way I feel Practically newborn, I got me somethin' real Anything you want, baby, you know I'll do Yeah Practically newborn, practically born for you
