

Neil Diamond, Rainy Day Song

Can you hear my rainy day song
Callin' from the street below
Baby, since I've been without you
Well, it's the only song I know

And I keep hearing rainy day songs
Tappin' on my window sill
Some that soon won't be forgotten
And some that probably never will

Say, I know
You never did believe in rainbows
But hey, you know
The sun is somehow gonna shine
And babe,
We only have to look
And we can find it,
If we want to
If we need to

It's just another rainy day song
Played beneath the sorry sky
And when I try to understand it
I only end up askin' why

But still I hear those rainy day songs
Callin' out to me and you
I only hope that you can hear them
'Cause rainy days are made for two

Say, you know
There's always gonna be a rainbow
And hey, you know
That sun is always gonna shine
Come on babe,
We only have to look
And we can find it
If we want to
If we need to

Can you hear that rainy day song
It's such a lost and lonely sound
But baby, when I have you near me
Rainy days can't get me down

Babe I need to have you near me
'Cause it's rainy days
That get me down
Babe I got to have you near me
So rainy days don't get me down
