

Neil Young, Guardian Angel

There's a guardian angel watching over you, yeah
Better mind your ways...just might leave on you
In the darkness who else is really with you?
Only you alone
Got to live with you all the time
When there's no more time
And nothin' left to do
Who will hear you?
Who will hear your heart?
Your guardian angel
Who are these kindred spirits?
Would you know them if they stood in front of you?
From below the loneliness eats at you
Try the telephone
Someone might listen for a while
When there's no more time
And nothin' left to do
Who will hear you?
Who will hear your heart?
Your guardian angel
When a passing stranger looks away from you
An uneasy feelin' starts comin' over you
There's somebody watching somewhere
Maybe today it's you
Comes a desperate urge to run
Guardian angel where are you?
When there's no more time
Who will hear you?
Who will hear your heart?
Your guardian angel
