

Neil Young, The losing end

I went into town to see you yesterday but you were not home. So I talked to some old friends for a while.