

Nelson, Too Many Dreams

Too many dreams go down in flames
And too many times we love in vain
So don't you let our love go down in flames

I remember when you promised we'd last forever
And nothing could ever change your mind
(Well) Now you're cryin'
You say that the fire's dyin', well.....

It'd be easy to turn your back now
But we've got to face it somehow

*('Cuz) Too many dreams go down in flames
And too many times we love in vain
I won't be the one to say it's over
So don't you let go, girl
I know it's hard to take the pain
But we'll never get this chance again
So don't you let our love go down in flames

Please forgive me

I know that it won't be easy
Just let me make it up to you somehow
I'm tryin' to tell you I couldn't last a day without you

So let's put our hearts together
'Cuz baby it's now or never

(*Repeat)

There's so much I still have to give you
We've got to find the magic to keep our love alive
