

Nerdie, Set Me Free

I've always been the one to blame, you think I enjoy all the pain.
And I tried to be good for all of you but still you ask me to be who I don't want to be, still you ask me to be, someone else.
I do what I want to, there's no way you can force me, I fear things you don't see
but still you ask me to be who I don't want to be,
still you ask me to be, to be.

I wanna fly in the endless sky with you,
I wanna be who I am and be with you,
set me free.

I guess I'm only wasting my time and all the hope is gone, once again I crawl back inside myself, still you ask me to be who I don't want to be,
still you ask me to be, to be.
