

Neurosonic, So Now You Know

Outside my home, I'm looking hard
For a higher mode to take
Handful I wonder how
How could my windows break?
I'll never know the hurt I caused
Or see things through your eyes
Happiness can't come from home
When all we have is lies...

To make things right
I won't come home tonight
Or any other nights
So please don't cry
Just say goodbye
And know that I tried to make it all right
Because I'm always right
So now you know

I add up all this wasted time
Wondering where you've been
In the end the guilt is mine
Cause I just can't begin
To make you smile like you once did
Or wipe away those tears
Looking back now at your life
I've wasted all those years

To make things right
I won't come home tonight
Or any other nights
So please don't cry
Just say goodbye
And know that I tried to make it all right
Because I'm always right
So now you know

I don't know where to begin
I don't know where I belong
I only know what I think
And everything I think is wrong
And everything I think is wrong

To make things right
I won't come home tonight
Or any other nights
So please don't cry
Just say goodbye
And know that I tried to make it all right
Because I'm always right
So now you know