Nevermore, This Sacrament

There is no control in the world today And there's still no order to this game we all play

Maybe none of us know (What's real)

There's no constraint when the walls cave in The neuron turn on, the game begins to fade away

Maybe none of us know Maybe none of us want to hear Never push against the flow Aimlessly

Feel the flow And let all thought fade We shall be one For this sacrament has begun

Lucy in the sky with diamond eyes long since dark, I wear her disguise of light

Maybe none of us know Maybe none of us want to hear Never push against the flow Aimlessly

Feel the flow And let all thought fade We shall be one For this sacrament has begun

[SOLO]

(This sacrament is a state of mind)

There's no control in the world today And there's still no order to this game we all play called life

Maybe none of us know Maybe none of us want to hear Never push against the flow Aimlessly

Feel the flow And let all thought fade We shall be one Through this sacrament

Feel the flow
(To become one with the flow)
And let all thought fade
(Is to realise purpose)
We shall be one
(To realise purpose)
For this sacrament has begun
(Is to become one with the flow)
(Become one with the flow)
This sacrament has begun
(Become one with the flow)
This sacrament
(Has begun)
