

Nevertheless, Perfect Chemistry

I haven't reached perfection, but is that what she needs?
I haven't reached the wisdom that she should always heed.
I am just a man. I haven't died for her, but I would.
I'll do whatever I have to.

I may not be her perfect chemistry,
but, if I can love her like you do, that's all she needs.

I haven't found the remedy to every tear she'll cry, but I'll try to be the one who's by her side.

I may not be her perfect chemistry,
